Abstract of the Disclosure

The invention describes sdp3.8 tumor associated nucleic acids, including fragments and biologically functional variants thereof. Also included are polypeptides and fragments thereof encoded by such nucleic acids, and antibodies relating thereto. Methods and products also are provided for diagnosing and treating conditions characterized by expression of a sdp3.8 gene product.